IT Peripheral Smart Vending Machine & Lockers

Easy access to IT devices, accessories, and supplies — anytime

Decrease downtime by providing employees with instant, self-service access to IT accessories and a secure storage place for device procurement, repair, and replacement.

It's a common problem in many organizations—when employees don't have access to the IT supplies or accessories they need, or have to wait for device repair or replacement, serious downtime occurs. IT Peripheral Smart Vending Machines is a convenient solution to this problem, offering rapid resolution of your employees' service needs.

Choose to use an onsite vending machine for dispensing accessories, a secure locker that stores larger devices for procurement, repair, and replacement—or both. With the ability to customize the Smart Vending Machine offering to fit your unique business needs, you can be sure that employees will always have the IT equipment they need to continue to do their jobs effectively without skipping a beat.

IT Peripheral Smart Vending Machine & Lockers

Locker

Choose to use the IT Peripheral Smart Vending locker instead of, or in addition to, the vending machine for a safe storage place that allows employees to procure larger devices or send them out for repair or replacement.

• Secure repository: Enable a secure exchange of devices when one is damaged or at the end of its lifecycle.

• Convenient pick-ups: Pick up and return devices based on whatever schedule works best for you.

• Eliminate the wait: Employees can immediately get back to work after dropping off a defective device since they don't have to wait around for someone to pick it up and can use a loaned device while theirs is repaired or replaced.

Vending Machine

The IT Peripheral Smart Vending Machine provides your end users with instant, self-service access to the IT accessories and supplies they need. In less than a minute, at any time of day, employees can visit this self-service machine to obtain products including keyboards, mice, cables, power supply adapters, headsets, batteries, USB memory, ink cartridges, and more. Integrated approval, billing, and inventory fulfillment also make your life easier.

• Instant fulfillment: With IT supplies and accessories at their disposal 24/7, employees will be more productive and happier with their overall experience.

• Company control: Choose which products you'd like to offer and how often they can be accessed. Then track the peripherals being obtained through employee badge identification.

• Managed inventory: Stay on top of employee transactions, vending machine status, and supply levels with convenient reporting tools.
